

Shah Almi Gate (Lal Masjid)

The Walled City of Lahore is known for a numbers of its mosques. Most of those old buildings have been replaced with fresh structural and many other religious places have been vanished with time. Like all gates, Bhatti Gate also has many mosques like the Lal Masjid, which is located inside the Shah Almi Gate and people take pride in its antiquity. Unfortunately, it has also been rebuilt and lost the originality. Different facilities are provided like racks for shoes, warm water in winters, hanging hooks, and much more.
