SEASON AND CROP REPORT FOR 1940-41 (1348 FASLI)

1. The arrangement of the appendices in this report is the same as last year.

2. The returns of this report are complete for all districts, except Lucknow, and portions of Mainpuri, Etah, Moradabad, Farrukhabad, Cawnpore, Jhansi and Gonda which were under settlement, revision or record operations ; for these tracts figures have been taken from the preceding year's returns to complete district and provincial totals.

Character of the Season

3. Rainfall was registered at 287 raingauge stations including 16 meteorological observatories. Of the stations under the control of the district officers 79 per cent. were inspected during the year under report as against 87 per cent. last year. State

4. The monsoon entered the Province late about the 3rd week of June, 1940. The total rainfall of the month was in slight defect in the Kumaun Division and in moderate to large defect elsewhere. During July, the monsoon was fairly active in the first week but weakened in the second week. It was active again in the last fortnight with general rainfall. The total rainfall of the month was in slight excess in the Rohilkhand Division, normal in the Kumaun, Gorakhpur and Fyzabad Divisions, in slight defect in the Allahabad and Benares Divisions and in moderate defect elsewhere. The rainfall in August was general and widespread. The total rainfall of the month was in moderate defect in the Kumaun Division, in slight defect in the Gorakhpur Division, normal in the Fyzabad Division, in slight excess in Lucknow Division and in moderate to large excess elsewhere. After a break till the middle of September, there was a temporary revival of the monsoon resulting in fairly widespread rain in the 3rd week. The monsoon withdrew from the Province in the last week of the month. The total rainfall of the month was normal in the Gorakhpur Division and in moderate to large defect elsewhere. With the exception of light showers at places, the month of October remained rainless. The total rainfall of the season June 1, 1940 to October 31, 1940, was in slight to moderate defect of the normal everywhere.

5. The rabi season opened with a rather dry weather and insufficient moisture in the soil. November was generally dry. The first and last weeks of December were practically rainless, but the rainfall in the 2nd and 3rd weeks was above the normal in all districts except the districts of the Meerut Division and Aligarh, Muttra and Agra, where it was below the normal. During January the rainfall was widespread. It was in slight defect in the Lucknow Division, normal in the Benares Division, in slight excess in the Kumaun, Allahabad and Jhansi Divisions and in moderate to large excess elsewhere. Rainfall in February was in moderate to large defect throughout the Province. March and April were practically rainless. The 1st and the 4th weeks of May were also practically rainless. Rainfall during the 2nd and 3rd weeks was general and fairly distributed.

6. On the whole the sowing seasons were not as good as in the previous year. Early cessation of the monsoon affected adversely almost all the kharif crops. The rainfall received in December and January proved beneficial to the standing rabi crops.

7. Slight damage from excessive rain and floods and from drought was reported by some districts. Besides this hot winds and rust were responsible for some damage to wheat crop. Sugarcane also suffered from hot winds, insects and red rot.

Area under Cultivation

8. The cultivated or net cropped area was practically the same as in the preceding year. Had it not been for the fact that in respect of some of the tracts under settlement or record operations, the preceding year's figures included the figures for 1346 Fasli, which was a bad agricultural year and the cultivated area was low as compared with 1347 Fasli and 1348 Fasli, the cultivated area would have shown a decrease instead of an increase of 0.1 per cent. The greatest deviations from the previous year occurred in the Jhansi Division where the cultivated area rose by 1.8 per cent. and in the Gorakhpur Division where it decreased by 1.4 per cent. Elsewhere the deviations being about one per cent. call for no comments. As compared with the normal area based on the average of 30 years' from 1901-02 to 1930-31, the cultivated area in the year under report rose by 1,245,514 acres or 3.6 per cent. Jhansi Division showed the highest increase of 18 per cent. followed by 5.7 per cent. in the Agra, 4.8 per cent. in the Allahabad and 3.9 per cent. in the Benares Divisions. In other divisions the variations were small. Naini Tal District showed a decrease of 15.9 per cent.

9. Out of the total area of 606 lakhs of acres about 97 lakhs were classed as "other uncultivated land excluding current fallows" and about 96 lakhs as "not available for cultivation". The details of the latter will be found in statement II(a).

Crop Area

10. The shortage and ununiform distribution of rains led to a decline of 237,377 acres or 1 per cent. in the kharif area as compared with the previous year but the area was 4 per cent. above the accepted normal. The decrease from the previous year was shared by all the divisions except the Meerut and Jhansi Divisions which showed increases of 1.6 and 0.2 per cent. respectively. In the Naini Tal District also there was an increase of 4 per cent. The highest decrease of 2 per cent. occurred in the Lucknow and Benares Divisions followed by 1.8 per cent. in the Agra and Gorakhpur, 1.3 per cent. Fyzabad and less than one per cent. in the remaining divisions. As compared with the accepted normal, the area fell by 1.1 per cent., 0.8 per cent. and 10.2 per cent. in the Agra and Jhansi Divisions and the Naini Tal District respectively. It exceeded the normal in the Meerut, Benares, Gorakhpur, Fyzabad, Allahabad, Rohilkhand and Lucknow Divisions by 12.3, 9.4, 7.4, 4.4, 3.3, 1.3 and 0.2 per cent. respectively.

11. The unfavourable nature of the sowing season, due to scanty rains in September and October was responsible for a decline in the rabi area, which fell by 644,535 acres or 3·1 per cent. as compared with the previous year, although it exceeded the accepted normal by 91,470 acres or 0·5 per cent. A fall of 7 per cent. occurred in the Meerut Division, of 6·8 per cent. in the Gorakhpur, of 5·6 per cent. in the Fyzabad, of 4·4 per cent. in the Lucknow and of about 3 per cent. in the Rohilkhand and Allahabad Divisions and of 6·4 per cent. in the Naini Tal District. The remaining divisions showed increase—2·6 per cent. in the Jhansi, 1·7 per cent. in the Benares and 0·1 per cent. in the Agra Divisions. As compared with the accepted normal, the Gorakhpur Division showed a decrease of 9·4 per cent., Meerut of 6·5 per cent., Rohilkhand and Fyzabad of about 5 per cent., Lucknow of 3·7 per cent. and the Naini Tal District of 31·6 per cent. The remaining divisions showed increases with 35 per cent. in Jhansi, 13·7 per cent. in Agra, 4 per cent. in Allahabad, and 1·4 per cent. in Benares.

12. The area under hot weather crops depends largely on the character of the two preceding harvests. In the year under report these harvests were on the whole fairly good. On account of this and scanty winter rains the area under hot weather crops shows a decline of 15,663 acres or 5·8 per cent. A decrease of 936,572 acres or 10·8 per cent. in the double-cropped area is mainly due to the failure of September and October rains.

13. The table below shows percentage variations in the area of the principal kharif crops :

Crops	Variations in areas in 1940-41, the areas of 1939-40 being taken as 100	Variations in area in 1940-41, the areas of 1938-39 being taken as 100
Rice early	93	93
Rice late	96	95
Maize	101	103
Juar	96	99
Bajra	102	118
Small millets	91	100
Sugarcane	134	155
Cotton	81	60

With the exception of sugarcane, bajra and maize, the area under all the kharif crops declined as compared with the preceding year. The increase in the area under sugarcane by 34 per cent. is attributed to the high price of gur obtaining in the previous year. The area under bajra and maize increased by 2 and 1 per cent. respectively on account of the favourable sowing season. The decline in case of other kharif crops is due to the character of the season.

14. The following table shows variations in the areas under the principal rabi crops :

Crops	Variations in areas in 1940-41, the areas of 1939-40 being taken as 100	Variations in areas in 1940-41, the areas of 1938-39 being taken as 100
All rabi crops	97	94
Wheat	98	93
Barley	101	97
Gram	95	92
Linseed	90	90
Rapeseed	87	101
Poppy	96	90

It will be seen that all the rabi crops except barley were sown on a smaller scale, which follows naturally from the character of the season. Barley increased only by one per cent.

Irrigated Area

15. The net irrigated area fell from 11,928,886 acres to 11,592,767 acres or by 2.8 per cent. This decline is due to the remarkable decrease in area irrigated from "other sources", on account of the failure of rains. The percentage of the irrigated area to cultivated area was 32.3. Of this 47 per cent. was served by ordinary wells, about 4 per cent. by tube-wells, 33 per cent. by canals, 16 per cent. by other sources. Very small area was served by reservoirs. Well-irrigated area showed an increase of 0.9 per cent., while canal-irrigated showed a decline of 0.1 per cent. The decrease in the latter is attributable to the fact that out of 18,296 acres previously shown as irrigated from private canals in Budaun, 17,196 acres have now been transferred to "other sources" as reported by the District Officer. The area irrigated from other sources fell by 19.8 per cent. and that from reservoirs by 18.7 per cent.

16. The total number of masonry wells constructed during the year under report was 20,064 but the net increase was only 4,822 as 15,243 old masonry wells fell into disuse. In the matter of the construction of wells, Etah District takes the lead with 1,417 wells followed by Bulandshahr, Gonda, Gorakhpur and Aligarh with 1,393, 1,270, 1,101 and 1,018 wells respectively, while in the districts of Basti and Meerut the number constructed was above 900 but less than 1,000. The number of masonry wells actually in use rose from 633,770 in the preceding year to 643,979 in the year under report. The total number of non-masonry wells in use fell from 561,402 to 530,113.

17. The unfavourable weather conditions affected the outturn of some of the principal kharif and rabi crops.

Statement V

Of the kharif crops, rice both early and late, fell from 86 per cent. of the normal last year to 68 and 63 per cent. respectively, bajra from 87 to 83, maize from 85 to 82, and other crops by one per cent. Cotton rose from 68 to 81 per cent. as it does not require much water: the weather proved favourable to this crop.

Of the rabi crops, wheat fell from 89 per cent. of the normal last year to 82 per cent., while barley and tobacco rose from 81 and 87 per cent. respectively to 94 per cent. Other crops showed variations between 1 to 2 per cent.

18. The condition of agricultural stock was on the whole satisfactory. Fodder supplies were generally adequate except in tahsil Dataganj, district Budaun, where scarcity was reported in December, 1940 and January, 1941. Cattle disease such as rinderpest, foot and mouth disease and haemorrhagic septicaemia prevailed throughout the whole year. The mortality figures are :

Statement VI.

		Seizures	Deaths
Rinderpest	19,587	10,384
Foot and mouth	78,774	492
Haemorrhagic septicaemia	9,292	7,004

19. The following table gives the retail prices of the principal agricultural crops ruling on the last day of each month in the Cawnpore market :

Month	Prices in rupees per maund
	Wheat	Barley	Gram	Juar	Maize	Rice common
1940
June	3.721	2.712	3.200	2.807	2.759	4.848

November	4.211	2.759	3.478	2.581	2.581	5.000
December	4.103	2.759	3.404	2.500	2.500	5.000
1941

February	3.810	2.424	2.759	2.162	2.222	5.000
March	3.810	2.353	2.857	2.105	2.000	5.333
April	3.636	2.286	2.581	2.000	2.105	6.667
May	3.478	2.500	2.857	2.222	2.105	6.667
June	4.211	2.857	3.200	2.500	2.353	6.957

Prices were high in June, with an upward tendency. In July the prices of all the commodities moved further up probably due to war. But the prices of kharif crops except rice, eased off, when the kharif crop came in the market. The price of rice fell a little in November on account of bad harvest and remained stationary till February. It again began to rise from March till the close of the year. The high prices of wheat, barley and gram were maintained till December, 1940. From January, 1941 the prices of wheat, barley and gram began to shrink with the prospects of the coming rabi harvest and this continued till the end of May, 1941. The year closed with the prices of wheat, barley, gram and rice running at a higher level than in the beginning.
